Criterion E: Evaluation

Evaluation of Product

After completing the project, I feel that I have achieved most if not all the success criteria. I have used the tabbed Pane to create multiple clickable pages. The two features that I planned to include in the Buy Crop page were implemented in the final project. Additionally, all the features in the Garden Area were implemented including the harvest crop and plant crop features. In Calendar, while the times for watering were not included as events, the days when the crops were harvested were included. Finally, the sale crops feature was added to the project which allows the user to sell crops at the users specified prices.

Recommendations for Future Improvements

There is definitely room for improvement in my project. The first thing would be a feature to sell multiple crops in one transaction. Right now, crops can only be sold individually which is slow in comparison to selling a group of crops all at once. Another feature that I would add is for the ability for the user to modify events on the calendar. I think this feature will bring more functionality to the calendar instead of it just being the place were the crop harvesting dates are displayed as it is right now.